BCT STRATEGIC PLAN 2016-20

Summary of Key Points

INTRODUCTION

Birse Community Trust (BCT) is a limited company and registered charity that exists to promote the common good of the inhabitants of Birse parish to deliver wider public benefits.

This document is a summary of the key points from the Strategic Plan that BCT has adopted for the management of BCT over the next five years, 1st January 2016 to 31st December 2020.

The Strategic Plan has an initial Background section and then three main sections covering the three core components of the management and operation of BCT:-

Governance - how BCT will be managed on behalf of the community during the Plan

Activities - the projects and other activities that BCT plans to carry out during the Plan

Resources - how BCT plans to have the resources to implement the Plan

The Plan sets out BCT's strategic objectives for these core components and describes how BCT plans to implement them, with the main policies that BCT intends to follow underlined in the text.

These objectives and policies provide a framework to guide BCT's management over the next five years. The Plan is, like BCT's previous Strategic Plans, about direction rather than detail.

This Summary of Key Points from the Strategic Plan starts with a shortened Background section and then lists BCT's strategic objectives and the policies intended to implement each.

The full version of BCT's Strategic Plan 2016-20 can be viewed on BCT's website:

1. BACKGROUND

- 1 Birse Community Trust (BCT) is a limited company and registered charity, which was set up in 1998 by the local community in the civil parish of Birse to improve the community's capacity to tackle community issues and develop local opportunities.
- 2 BCT is controlled by the local community, with everyone on the Electoral Register covering Birse parish eligible to be a voting member of BCT and responsible for electing the local Trustees that manage BCT for the community.
- 3 BCT's overall purpose is to develop and implement projects that help 'to promote the common good of the inhabitants of Birse parish and deliver wider benefits'.
- 4 In carrying out this role, BCT works in partnership with the parish's three Community Associations (Finzean, Birse, Ballogie) and two Community Councils (Finzean, Birse & Ballogie) through the Birse Parish Liaison Group involving all six community bodies.
- 5 BCT has now been operating for 18 years and during that time, BCT has carried out a wide range of activities on behalf of the community.
- 6 BCT's main activity since it started has been the management of lands and buildings. BCT now manages fourteen sites spread across the parish because of the contribution that each site makes to the local community's identity and well being. The sites includes historic buildings, community facilities, amenity areas and BCT's three forests: the Commony Pinewoods, Balfour and Slewdrum Forests. The forests reflect the traditional local pattern of three common good forests, with one in each community.
- 8 BCT also carries out a wide range of projects to conserve and promote the natural and cultural heritage of Birse parish, as well as a variety of other initiatives to contribute to the common good of the local community. BCT's heritage work includes the management of BCT's Birse Parish Archive and its collection of old documents, records and artefacts related to the history of the parish.
- 9 BCT has always avoided raising funds locally for its projects, so that it does not compete with other groups in the community for local donations. This means that nearly all BCT's income of £1.88 million over its first 17 years came from sources outside the parish. Around £05 million or 30% of the income was capital funding to enable BCT to buy properties.
- 10 BCT's income during the 17 years excluding the capital funding, consisted of grants (55%), donations (24%) and sales (21%). A key development in BCT's income was when it managed to buy Slewdrum Forest (2006) and Balfour Forest (2010). These are managed by BCT's subsidiary the Birse Trading Company (BTCO), which donates surplus income from timber sales to BCT to help BCT meet its core operating costs and the costs of other project work for which there are no grants.
- 11 BCT's average annual expenditure over its first 17 years was around £80K, excluding the capital expenditure. During that time, 50% or more of BCT's expenditure each year was spent in the parish on local contractors and suppliers, and 75% or more in the parish and the rest of the Mid Deeside area.
- 12 BCT ended 2015 in a relatively sound position and a key task for BCT's Trustees is to maintain and improve on that position over the period of its Strategic Plan for 2016-20.

5. FORWARD VIEW

- 1 The purpose of this Plan is to provide a framework to guide the management of BCT over the five years 2016-20, as the next stage in BCT's development.
 - 2 BCT starts the Plan after 17 years of operation with many on-going commitments, particularly in relation to the lands and buildings that BCT manages on behalf of the community.
 - 3 During the Plan, the Trustees overall aims are to manage BCT:
 - to ensure BCT continues to meet its existing responsibilities and commitments;
 - to ensure BCT continues to manage the lands, buildings and other projects for which it is responsible to high standards;
 - to increase BCT's capacity to undertake more activities on behalf of the community;
 - to increase BCT's annual income and the number of projects that BCT carries out;
 - to improve the level of BCT's communication with its membership and the extent of local involvement in BCT's activities;
 - to improve the resilience of BCT's administrative arrangements and its financial position.
 - 4 The Plan describes how BCT intends to pursue these aims through its strategic objectives for each of the three main components of the management and operation of BCT - its governance, activities and resources.
 - 5 Under each objective, there are a series of underlined statements which represent the policies that BCT will follow to implement the Plan. These statements also provide over 100 benchmarks against which BCT's performance can be assessed during the Plan.
 - 6 These objectives and policies provide the framework that will guide BCT's management during the Plan, As a strategic plan, it is about direction rather than the detail of the activities that BCT will carry out during the Plan.
 - 7 The five years of the Plan is a relatively long time in BCT's terms and the particular projects that BCT is taking forward at any stage, will be managed through BCT's Annual Plans and reported in BCT's Annual Reports.
 - 8 BCT's Annual Report for 2015 reflected that BCT is starting this Strategic Plan in a more secure financial position than previous Plans, and with its management and administration also both operating reasonably well.
 - 9 However, despite all BCT's progress over the years, the core challenges each year remain to try to ensure both that BCT has sufficient funds to meet its commitments and that BCT has adequate capacity in its management team.
 - 10 These factors emphasise the need for BCT to have a cautious and prudent approach to its development, as it aims both to do what it already does better and to do more to promote the common good of the inhabitants of Birse parish and deliver wider public benefits.
